DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-8,12-13,17-18,20-21, 24-25 and 33-38 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Danforth (USPN 4,822,345). Danforth discloses a catheter (20), an inner shaft (53) and an outer shaft (42) and a heat transmitting mechanism (lumen 56). Lumen (56) is defined by the inside wall of outer shaft (42) and the outside wall of inner shaft (53); therefore, the lumen wall is between the confines of the inner shaft and the outer shaft. The assembly also has a balloon (28). It is considered inherent that any portion of the external surface of any balloon defines a stent mounting region. See 6:53-66.

Danforth meets the claim limitations as described above but fails to include an inner shaft having three layers.

Samuelson et al (USPN 6,464,683) teaches a catheter with an inner shaft having three layers for improved advancement of a separate smaller catheter through the lumen. See 6:25-28.

At the time of the invention, it would have been obvious by one skilled in the art to incorporate the three layer coating construction of Samuelson into the invention of Danforth. Both devices are analogous in the art; therefore, a combination is proper. Additionally, the motivation for making the combination comes from both Danforth and Samuelson. Danforth teaches introducing a catheter through inner lumen 47 and Samuelson teaches a mechanism (layered coating) for enhancing the advancement of the catheter. The motivation would have been in order to enhance the advancement of the angioplasty catheter of Danforth.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 22-23 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 3/14/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The device of Danforth does teach a lumen wall as newly claimed. See rejection above. It is suggested that applicant further define the lumen wall in relation to the device in general and the inner and outer shafts respectively.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37

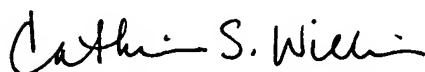

Art Unit: 3763

CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
